Trace fossils from the upper part of the Stelkuz formation (609m +) and from the overlying Boya Formation (400.5 m) permit a tentative definition of the Precambrian-Cambrian boundary in the Cassiar Mountains. The strata investigated are below the top of the Lower Cambrian Fallotaspis Zone, a level located 1.5 m above the upper contact of the Boya Formation. The Precambrian-Cambrian boundary is tentatively placed 592 m below this level at a disconformity within the Stelkuz Formation. Correlations with other boundary strata in the Canadian Cordillera suggest the optimum area for further testing ichnofossil ranges is in the Mackenzie Mountains. Intercontinental correlations are also attempted.

Paragraph Development

Accounts and Papers of the House of Commons

Specially designed for nonmathematics majors, this study guide thoroughly reviews the math needed to understand statistics. And it includes—and solves step by step—scores of the kinds of problems that come up in such fields as anthropology, biology, business, earth sciences, government, medicine, psychology, and sociology. A perfect supplement to the leading textbooks, students will also find this book ideal for independent study. Supplementary questions aid self testing.

Paragraph Development helps students edit their own writing for clarity and accuracy and offers a three-phase strategy for building writing skills through planning, writing, and revising. The approach in each chapter is direct and functional: a model is provided and graphically explained, then students use the model to write their own paragraphs.-- Offers controlled information-transfer exercises, a choice of
