I think it's interesting though. I think it's interesting that in some sense that that's all happiness is, for surely if everyone were the freckle in the tar then there would be no tar-then we would all wish to be the tar bit in the freckles. If everyone were psycho-drunk-cut-all-their-fingers-off-with-a-steak-knife-f*cked-up at the bar, then who in the f*ck would really think it interesting to put such a story in the news? If everyone wore a smile and you never saw even one cloud in the wink of all your days then who in the f*ck would be relieved by another? And it's fun to twist and spit on the plot-fun to run the f*cking lawn mower through the fence and see how far it goes-fun to take your mattress outside and jump on it naked in the middle of

This practical and engaging book provides a coherent approach to global business responsibility and ethics based on the latest research, theory, and practice. The authors incorporate numerous interesting and current real world examples to support the argument that corporations need to - and can - identify and implement processes that foster ethical conduct, ensure basic human rights, protect the natural environment, and enhance social justice wherever businesses operate around the globe. "Global Business Citizenship" combines elements of political theory, stakeholder relationships, business ethics, corporate social performance, accountability and measurement, and organizational change. Its practical approach encompasses "best practices" in stakeholder management, experiments in applying corporate values to local conditions, and social environmental auditing and reporting. Focusing on the strategic alignment and change management process for implementing business citizenship principles and practices, it is an essential supplement for any course concerned with ethics and social responsibility in today's global business climate.
