Stringing Along, Level 1

Understanding Qigong 4

The brave little Manxmouse is on a special journey. But can he survive fearsome foxes, terrified elephants and cats big and small to reach his destination? The Manxmouse is one-of-a-kind. He's the strangest little mouse you'll ever see, with bright blue fur, huge rabbit ears and a distinct lack of tail. But Manxmouse doesn't mind being different. He knows that destiny awaits him, and so Manxmouse sets out on an exciting adventure. He meets tigers and hawks and dastardly pet-shop owners, but there's someone he dreads and desires to meet more than anyone else. The someone who has been waiting for him all along the Manx Cat.

Bibliography of Tropical Apiculture

"The ship's prow pointed down toward the deep. It looked as if the ship's nose would hit the seabed hundreds of feet below. Green waters swallowed the decks, devouring the remaining passengers who had been clinging to her to the last second. With an audible groan the ship turned over onto its starboard side and disappeared. 'Dear God!' Dora thought. 'It couldn't have been more than a few minutes since I left the engine room after the first explosion sounded and rattled the decks . . . fifteen or at most twenty . . . no more . . .'" What was behind the second explosion that finally sank the Lusitania after it was torpedoed by a German U-boat on May 7, 1915? Dora is about to find out in a tale that spans the First World War from May 1, 1915 to the bitter end in Paris in 1919. Her experiences take her from the Irish Sea to the battlefields of Gallipoli to the Arab Revolt of Lawrence of Arabia and span three continents. Dora must find her own hard won peace. Those Who

Dream By Day is the first of a series. The second volume, The Seven-Pillared House, will soon be available from Cheops Books.

Celebrated for bringing a personal touch to history in her Pulitzer Prize-winning epic The Guns of August and other classic books, Barbara W. Tuchman reflects on world events and the historian's craft in these perceptive, essential essays. From thoughtful pieces on the historian's role to striking insights into America's past and present to trenchant observations on the international scene, Barbara W. Tuchman looks at history in a unique way and draws lessons from what she sees. Spanning more than four decades of writing in The New York Times Magazine, The Atlantic, Foreign Affairs, Harper's, The Nation, and The Saturday Evening Post, Tuchman weighs in on a range of eclectic topics, from Israel and Mao Tse-tung to a Freudian reading of Woodrow Wilson. This is a splendid body of work, the story of a lifetime spent "practicing history." Praise for Practicing History "Persuades and enthralls . . . I can think of no better primer for the nonexpert who wishes to learn history."—Chicago Sun-Times "Provocative, consistent, and beautifully readable, an event not to be missed by history buffs."—Baltimore Sun "A delight to read."—The New York Times Book Review

Reincarnation Cards

Four Seasons Qigong is a well-known traditional medical Qigong practice in which one learns how to regulate the body from one season to the next to avoid common illnesses. This Qigong specializes in training the five internal Yin organs; heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, and spleen, which correspond to the four seasons the year. It is believed that when we get sick it is often due to the body's difficulty in adapting to the changes from one season to another. For example, when Fall arrives, it is easier to catch a cold, and when Summer comes, the heart can be too excited. By practicing Four Seasons Qigong, you are able to adjust your body's Qi during the change of seasons so your health can be maintained.

Stringing Along is the first in a series of books for beginning string orchestra players by Albert Stoutamire and Kenneth Henderson. The second is Strings Are Fun, and a third book, only slightly more advanced, is Bow, Pick, 'n' Rock. The first two books are made up of program pieces which are easy to play and are full-sounding, harmonized arrangements. Both can be used throughout the first year of string instrument instruction. Published for 1st violin, 2nd violin, viola, cello and bass, and piano-conductor.

Those Who Dream by Day

A boxed set containing a hard cover book and 61 full-colour cards depicting diverse historical periods, occupations, cultures and manner of termination, all designed to provoke "far memories" of both past and future incarnations. The book gives detailed instructions on how the cards are to be used to recall such far memories by following a carefully designed system embedded within this set, for which patents are pending. The chapter, "The Evidence" presents solid scientific, physical and anecdotal evidence for reincarnation. A summary of quantum physics breakthroughs and their relevance to understanding this phenomenon includes quotes from such respected scientists as Planck, Einstein, Schrödinger and de Broglie. This approach provides a fresh look at the stunning implications of quantum physics for understanding the true nature of time, space, consciousness and the paranormal. By presenting a philosophical framework to bring greater clarity and understanding of reincarnational experiences, the authors enable readers independently to gain an insight into who they really are and their purpose in the universe. The set has been called "something new under the sun" by author-lecturer John Anthony West, originator of the "Age of the Sphinx" controversy, and a "stunning, consciousness-expanding work" by the renowned transpersonal psychologist and educator, Dr Stanley Krippner, in his Foreword to the book. Suitable for readers and researchers of any age or background, it is an ideal gift for anyone of an enquiring mind that is open to a message that is far older than the pyramids, yet as new as tomorrow.
